

A NEXT-LEVEL VIEW OF THE WORLD

Enhancing in-flight awareness and overall cabin experience

BRING BACK THE THRILL OF FLYING

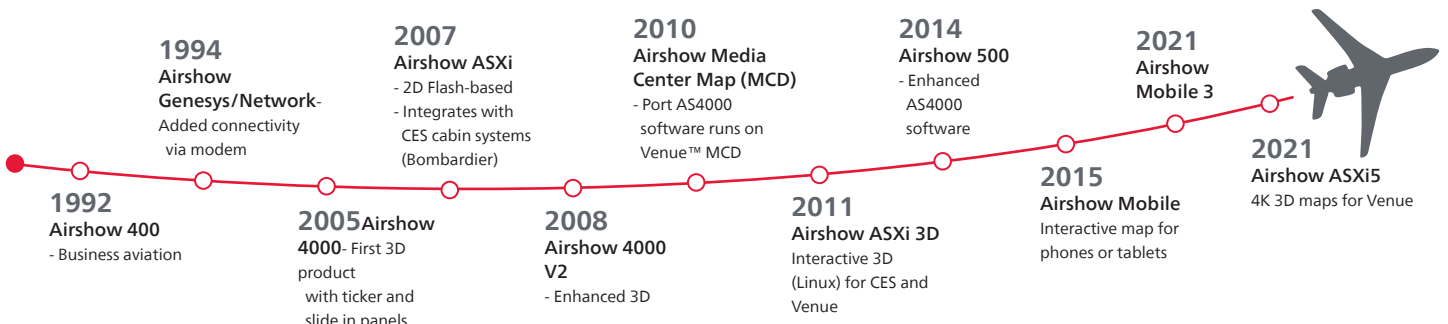

Your passengers' favorite cabin feature – Collins Aerospace Airshow® moving maps – takes flying to the next level. Collins Airshow is an industry-leading moving map system that offers high-performance capabilities that enhance passenger experience with visual realism and interesting geographical facts. Passengers of all ages are excited to see the spectacular views and learn about the world as they fly.

ARE WE THERE YET?

That classic traveling question was the original motivation behind our first Airshow moving maps system. Since its introduction, we have continued to build on our experience and expertise to keep our systems at the forefront of information delivery capabilities, while making every flight more enjoyable. Collins Airshow turns “Are we there yet?” into “We’re here already!”

Our history of Airshow

Satisfy the thirst for knowledge

With our intuitive system design and user-friendly interface, Collins Airshow is the perfect interactive platform for all ages. Receiving real-time weather information and data feeds, plus understanding flight progress and geographic location, can be deeply satisfying to most travelers. Easily integrate Airshow with your Venue™ cabin management system to offer a flight experience that your passengers won't soon forget.

AIRSHOW MOBILE

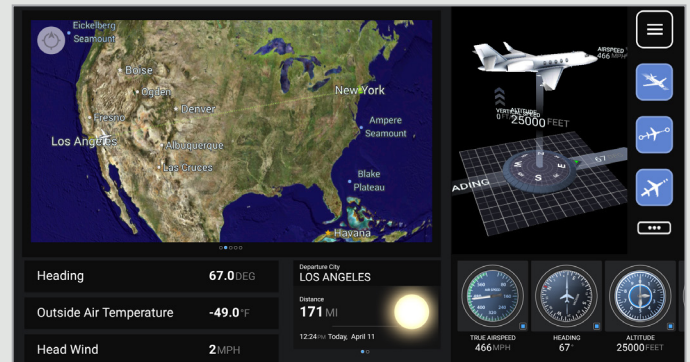

Passengers want instant, on-demand information at their fingertips. Give them the highly connected cabin experience that they expect with Collins Airshow Mobile application.

Our downloadable application, Airshow Mobile, provides an interactive, informative and dynamic travel experience from your passenger's own phone or tablet. With a tap and a swipe, they can watch real-time flight data, research points of interest and view 3D maps. Airshow Mobile can be used independently or with other Collins solutions.

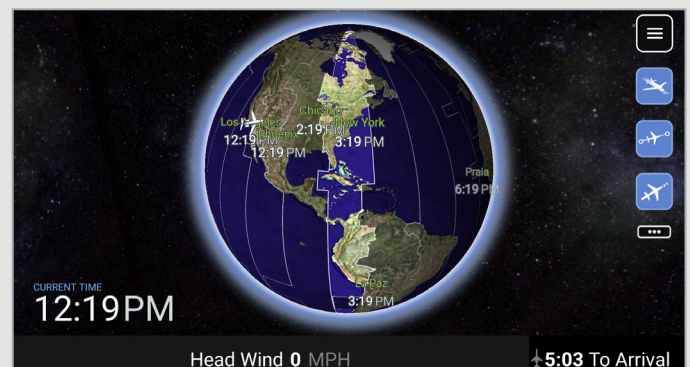

CUSTOMIZED SOLUTIONS

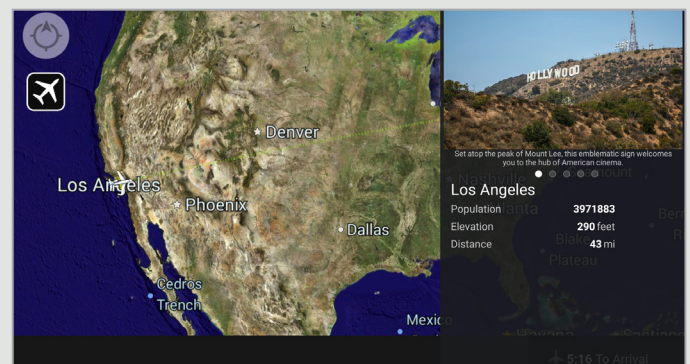

When you choose Airshow, you get more than just moving maps – you get Collins Aerospace experts to guide and support you. Customers around the world rely on us to help them determine which product suits their needs and budget. Our team will help customize a solution for you and your platform. From the initial installation to future updates, Collins experts are dedicated to providing global support 24/7/365.
