

Art Cameron

Executive Vice President, Global Government Relations

Art Cameron leads Global Government Relations for RTX. He is responsible for the company's international, federal, state and local government relations.

Cameron has extensive experience engaging with senior government officials to develop programmatic and financial strategies to achieve policy and business outcomes. This includes immediate past leadership of the RTX Federal Affairs team.

Before joining RTX, Cameron was vice president of Federal Government Operations for The Boeing Company in Washington, D.C. He also worked on Capitol Hill for nearly two decades as staff director for the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies as well as having served three different U.S. Senate Majority Leaders. He also worked at the U.S. Department of the Treasury as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Appropriations and Management.

Cameron holds a bachelor's degree in justice from American University and a Juris Doctorate from the Washington College of Law.